Date & Weather	10 th June 20XX	Rainy
Greeting	Dear Diary,
Opening paragraph	I had a terrible day today. It was just bad luck on nearly everything.
Body	I woke up late, so I had to hurry. I was hungry, but I didn't have time to eat anything. I got dressed, grabbed my books and ran all the way to the bus stop. Unfortunately, the bus was just leaving. I yelled, but the bus driver didn't hear me. I could take a taxi to school or walk. Finally, I decided to walk as I thought I would have enough time. After I walked for a few minutes, it started raining. Soon I had to stop because of the heavy rain. Eventually, I waited for half an hour at a convenience store. One hour later, I arrived at school. I missed the first class, and I was late for the second one. To make matters worse, I hadn't studied for my English test. Of course, I didn't do well. Moreover, my teacher told me that I must pass the make-up test, or I would fail the course. After school, it was still raining while I was walking to the bus stop. I hadn't brought my umbrella, so I was wet through. The bus finally came and I got on. When I reached into my pocket for money for my bus fare, it was empty. My money was gone! I couldn't pay the bus fare. I had to walk in the rain again.
Closing paragraph	At last I got home. I found a pot was boiling on the stove. Luckily, I discovered it in time. During the night, while I was sleeping, my bed broke. It is 3:00 am now and I'm sleeping on the floor. That's all about my terrible day. Good night, Diary.
